$14K boost to hospital

MORE than $14,000 was raised for Echuca Regional Health's oncology department at the Echuca Autumn Luncheon.

Held at Echuca Hotel recently, the event is spearheaded by ERH volunteers Lucille George and Theresa Jacobs.

Ms Jacobs said 150 women attended and enjoyed heaps of raffles and auctions.

"It was a great day and we're very pleased to raise so much for the hospital," she said.

"We owe a big thanks to David Connally for allowing us to use Echuca Hotel and to all the businesses who once again gave generously to make the day a success."

The grand total was helped by a $4000 donation from Echuca's Terry and Ellen Banko.

They sold a Pro Hart painting that was in the family and donated the proceeds to the lunch.

Terry and Ellen said they wanted the money to go to a good cause and felt the lunch supporting the oncology department was a worthy one.

"I've had my own battles with cancer and after my wife attended the luncheon, we decided it was a great way to give back," Terry said.
